The image on the left is so small I cannot make out what that is.

Attached is the cover of the Live In Japan cd. This is the only scan we have. It was only intended to be used at cd size of 5x5

Hi Glen,

I've gone through our BB King files, which contain very little from the ABC Records era. As Vartan and I both recalled beforehand, I can confirm that we do no images you are looking for.

I did some further research, and found that the "Live In Japan LP" was originally released in Japan only in 1971. So the 1999 U.S. CD is a straight reissue of the original artwork was replicated from the Japanese LP. Both the cover and back cover from the LP were reproduced from the original Japanese album for it to have in our possession the original photos used in the art or any other photos related to them, as the LP art would have been used to create the CD. Here is a original Japanese LP from 1971 with the same graphics:

The source of the the black & white live image used on page 30 of the box set was an ABC Records publicity photo. The one we have is not an original, it is a copy. I made a scan of it for you and attached it here. We do not have any others from that setting. That same publicity photo has been used quite a few times

These photos predate the acquisition of ABC Records by MCA Records in 1979. If they were kept by BB's management at the time, that could very well be, but I wish I had some better news for you.
